Massachusetts Valley Railway.

A Lenoxville correspondent informs the Montreal News that the first sod was cut on the line of the Massachusetts Valley Railway on the 16th inst., in the presence of a large crowd of spectators, at Lenoxville. At about 8 o'clock the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes were hoisted on the flag-staff in the square, and after three rousing cheers each "the Queen," "our friends on the other side of forty-five," "the Massachusetts Valley Railway," and "the contractor, Mr. McGovern," a procession was formed and all marched to the scene of operations. The Rev. M. Searth then after a short address, invoked the divine blessing on the undertaking, and these preliminaries having been gone through a pickaxe was handed to the Mayor, A. Steven, Esq., and a shovel to C. W. Towle, Esq., P. L. S., while the Rev. Mr. Searth was introduced to a bran new wheelbarrow, and very soon, by the aid of these gentlemen, who went to their work with a will, the first barrowful of soil was deposited in its place.

This ceremony having been concluded, Mr. McGovern, having received the congratulations and good wishes of numbers of his friends, at once set to work, and very soon gangs of men were organized, picks, shovels, and barrows distributed, and the commencement of the work on this important connecting link of railway communication was accomplished.

GEN. GRANT DRIVES DEXTER.—The New York Sun says that on Tuesday morning Gen. Grant rode out to Fashion Course with Mr. Bonner, of the Ledger, to see Dexter. They drove Lantern and the Auburn horse. It was a cold, raw, blustering day, and the ground was frosty; but under all these disadvantageous circumstances, Dexter, trotted a mile, as timed by Gen. Grant in 2:21; the first half mile, where he did not have to trot against the wind, in 1:08. One day last week, when the weather was more favorable, he trotted a mile in 2:17, which is faster by some seconds than any other horse in the world ever trotted. Although Dexter has been considered a wild, excitable horse, immediately after this performance Mr. Bonner had him harnessed up single to a top wagon, and rode with Gen. Grant behind him back to the city, and down to the Metropolitan Hotel. Gen. Grant himself held the reins and drove Dexter the greater part of the way through the city, where they encountered many stages any carriages.

PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANIES.—The Chicago Republican says: A prominent official of the Union Pacific Railroad informs us that there is good reason for the belief that the two companies—now rivals, but soon to be co-operators—the Union and the Central Pacific Railway Companies, have come to a mutual agreement as to the point where their respective lines of road shall meet and unite. This will be at a point one hundred miles west of the northern extremity of Salt Lake.

SEEKING GOVERNMENT EMPLOYMENT.—Many persons have arrived in Washington from various States seeking Government employment. Instead of increasing the Departments are reducing their forces and therefore there is no prospect of success. A large number of printers have lately arrived seeking places at the Government Printing Office. The Superintendent, we are informed, gives a uniform answer to their applications—that he has not only a sufficient force now, but that he has already made engagements fully to meet all business demands in the future.

COIN IN THE TREASURY.—The amount of coin in the United States Treasury at this time is about $87,000,000 of which $22,000,000 are represented by gold certificates.

HORATIO SEYMOUR.—Who says that the would-be President is "left out in the cold?" Far from it. He is a "Fish Commissioner" of the State of New York, with a salary of $333.

AN ELEGANT WEDDING.—The New York Home Journal, describes as follows, a recent wedding at the church of the Messiah, the groom being Mr. Joseph Brown, and the bride Miss Ellen Brooks, of New York:

The altar was dressed with choice flowers and brilliantly illuminated; a splendid selection of music was given, and, as the wedding party arrived, the marriage bells chimed accompaniment to the music—a new and pleasing feature. The bride wore a dress of superb white satin, made with a long pointed train, trimmed round the edge with a box plaiting of white satin ribbon; veil of long white tulle, fastened by orange blossoms, and ornaments of diamonds. The bridesmaids—three in number—wore white tulle on dresses, made with two skirts, the lower ornamented with a wide box-plaited flounce, surmounted by a wide fold of bias white satin, and the upper trimmed with a narrow flounce, and folds of white satin as a heading. The waists were of tulle, made low in the neck, and with short sleeves; white satin bodice, and ash to correspond; hair dressed high, with pink flowers. The marriage service was performed by Rev. Dr. Osgood, and was particularly impressive. The usual wedding reception followed, and was a most magnificent entertainment.

From Washington.

On the 17th, Secretary McCulloch confirmed Alex. Fulton, of the Baltimore American Internal Revenue, Supervisor for Delaware, Maryland, and the District of Columbia, and John Olney for Illinois.

Orders have been issued from the Navy Department detaching Admiral Farragut from his command of the European Squadron, and placing him on waiting orders.

Gen. Sheridan urgently requests reinforcements of mounted men to enable him to put a speedy conclusion to existing Indian hostilities. It may be necessary to call out mounted volunteers from the frontier States, but this will not be done if it can be avoided.

The report of the Land Office shows that enough land was sold last year to pay the expenses of that Bureau.

By command of Gen. Grant, the Superintendents of the mounted recruiting service at Carlisle barracks will forward, without delay, all disposable recruits at that post to Fort Harker, Kansas, where they will be reported to Gen. Sheridan for assignment.

Chief Engineer Humphreys estimates that $6,238,000 will carry the engineers' corps of the army through to the close of the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1869.

On making out an additional list of female clerks to be dismissed from the office of the Register of the Treasury, Gen. Jeffries has been careful to retain widows and the daughters of soldiers and others, who have no means of support apart from employment in his Bureau. The outside pressure brought to bear upon this official since the reduction of the number of female employees commenced, for the retention of specified clerks, is of a formidable character.

Commissioner Wilson, of the General Land Office, has just received returns showing the disposal of 49,093 acres of the public domain during the past month, at the following local offices: St. Cloud, Minnesota, 20,476 acres; Eau Claire, Wisconsin, 13,488; Ionia, Michigan, 8,536; Winnebago City, 6,196 acres. The greater portion of the land was taken up by actual settlers under the homestead law, and the remainder sold for cash, and located with military bounty land warrants.

THE ENGLISH ELECTIONS.—Thus far the Liberals have elected 147 members, a gain of 30, while the conservatives have secured sixty-two, a gain of eight. Mr. Gladstone, Liberal, has been returned, and Messrs Roebuck and John Stewart Mill are defeated.

DISGUSTING SPECTACLE.—Another disgusting spectacle was witnessed on the 30th of October at Austin, Nevada, in the attempt to hang a prisoner. The scene is thus described:

At the signal the trap fell, and the wretched young man lay stretched upon the ground, the knot having given way. There was a wild cry and a rush forward of the crowd, but the people were kept back by the guard. Anderson was carried on to the platform, and the noose was again adjusted around his neck, and the trap fell. The knot gave way again, and Anderson, was prostrated insensible. He was carried up the steps of the platform and seated in a chair, his face wearing the palor of the grave, from which he had been twice snatched. The rope was adjusted the third time. As the trap fell he swung free, and after a slight muscular movement, for several minutes, all was over.

THE ONE HUNDREDTH VOLUME, AND A GREAT ROMANCE.—Littell's Living Age enters upon its 100th volume in January next, which fact sufficiently attests its deserved success.

In the number for Nov. 21 it begins, by arrangement with the Boston publishers of Berthold Auerbach's works, a new and great romance, by that most eminent of living novelists, entitled "The Country House on the Rhine," which is now appearing serially in Germany. Auerbach's last work, "On the Heights," was pronounced the most remarkable novel that has come to us from the home of Goethe during the present century; and John G. Saxé pronounced it "one of the few great works of the age." The new work is to be partly American in its theme, and promises to be a masterpiece of the author. It will appear from week to week in the Living Age until completed.

The publishers make a liberal offer to new subscribers for the year 1869, viz.: to send them the weekly numbers of the Living Age, from the beginning of this story to January next, free of charge.

Besides the above attraction, the Living Age will continue to present to its readers its usual complete resume of the valuable literature of the day, embracing Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Poetry, Literary, Scientific, Biographical, Historical, and Poetical information gathered from the whole body of English periodical literature, and from the pens of the ablest living writers. Issued weekly numbers of 64 pages each, making more than 3,000 double-column octavo pages a year, it is one of the cheapest, if not the cheapest, magazine that can be had, considering the quantity and quality of literary matter furnished.

A leading daily paper says that "if a man were to read Littell's Magazine regularly, and read nothing else, he would be well informed on all prominent subjects in the general field of human knowledge."

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher says, "Were I, in view of all the competitors that are now in the field, to choose I should undoubtedly choose the Living Age; for it is there any library that I know of so much instructive and entertaining reading in the same number of volumes."

It is similarly endorsed by the best writers and thinkers of the day, and commended by the press as "the leading magazine of the class."

It is issued every Saturday by "Littell & Gay, Boston," at $8 a year, free of postage. An extra copy sent gratis to any one getting up a club of five new subscribers.

Wild Animals at a Fire.

The Philadelphia papers record startling incidents which occurred at the burning of the building in which the animals of Forepaugh's Menagerie were stored, in that city, on Saturday evening of last week:

"The animals, when the flames came in such proximity, were frantic, the additional excitement, added to the noises, becoming unbearable. The dens were seized by the firemen, and they moved away with them as though they were solid structures. The consequence was that some of the bars became displaced and the animals, seeing a chance for escape, left no time in availing themselves of it.

The dens were rudely but securely built for the purpose of holding the animals, but it was not expected that a speedy removal of them would be necessitated. In removing the den containing the lion from the structure upon which it was placed, it received a severe jar, and the result was, it commenced to fall to pieces. A large number of men, however, surrounded it and held it together until it was landed in the street when a cage was brought up and placed over it, thus safely securing the lion, which had not obtained its freedom, thanks to the bravery of the men who held the den together.

A Bengal tiger effected its escape by the breaking of a plank in the den during its removal, and started off up Ridge avenue, followed by a boy. The animal jumped over a fence and went into the dining-room of the residence of a physician. It then passed through the kitchen and into the yard, and so to the stable, where it was captured by some of the menagerie folks and safely secured.

At Twenty-third and Jefferson streets something walked up the steps of a residence where three ladies were standing looking at the fire. One of them, thinking the thing was a dog, kicked at it, but the thing would not be driven off that way, and walked into the house, the ladies making room for it when they found it would not be kicked away. A man suddenly dashed by the ladies and into the house, where he found the thing he was in search of—a Brazilian tiger—in the kitchen, amusing itself with a cat. Whether his tigership was playing around the cat until it recovered its breath after its excitement, and then intended to devour it, does not transpire, for the man suddenly threw a carpet over the animal and bore it off in triumph.

The cage of monkeys was the most ludicrous thing to behold, as the creatures gibbered away and performed all manner of antics. Parrotspoke out in tones that would have done credit to a basso singer, and the feathered tribe that could not speak were moving about their cages like bats in a lighted room."

The largest animal missing is a monkey, all the others of any account having fortunately been secured.

DR. WISTAR'S

BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no REMEDY has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the THROAT, LUNGS and CHEST, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balm. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it at hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of cold—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

Unsolicited Testimony.

From REV. FRANCIS LOBBELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balm of Wild Cherry. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for coughs, colds or sore throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balm my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached with perfect ease. I commend it to my brethren in the ministry, and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

GRACE'S

CELEBRATED SALVE.

From Mr. E. Tucker, Depot Master at Salisbury, Mass.

"I have been troubled for years with a bad humor, sometimes outward, and sometimes inward. During the past summer it manifested itself more than usual outwardly, and I used your Salve. All signs of it have since disappeared, without affecting me inwardly, indicating, I think, the curative nature of the Salve."

Boston, Jan. 20, 1868. POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND.—After having given it a thorough trial we can confidently recommend Poland's White Pine Compound as a very valuable article for the cure of colds, coughs, and pulmonary complaints generally. ## WOMAN.

FEMALES, OWING TO THE PECULIAR and important relations which they sustain, they perform, are subject to many sufferings. Freedom from these contribute in no small degree to their happiness and welfare, for none can be happy who are ill. Not only so, but no one of these various female complaints can long be suffered to run on without involving the general health of the individual, and ere long producing permanent sickness and premature decline. Nor is it pleasant to consult a physician for the relief of these various delicate affections, and only upon the most urgent necessity will a true woman so far sacrifice her greatest charm as to do this. The sex will then thank us for placing in their hands simple specifics which will be found efficacious in relieving and curing almost every one of those troublesome complaints peculiar to the sex.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU.—Hundreds suffer in silence, and hundreds of others apply vainly to druggists and doctors, who either merely tantalize them with the hope of a cure or apply remedies which make them worse. I would not wish to assert anything that would do justice to the afflicted, but I am obliged to say that although it may be produced from excessive exertion of the power of life, by laborious employment, unwholesome air and food, profuse menstruation, the use of tea and coffee, and frequent childbearing, it is far oftener caused by direct irritation, applied to the mucous membrane of the vagina itself.

When reviewing the causes of these distressing complaints, it is most painful to contemplate the attendant evils consequent upon them. It is but simple justice to the subject to enumerate a few of the many additional causes which so largely affect the life, health, and happiness of woman in all classes of society, and which, consequently, affect more or less directly, the welfare of the entire human family. The mania that exists for precocious cohabitation and marriage, causes the young female to engage in corporeal development to be wasted and perverted in the restraints of dress, the early confinement of school, and especially in the unhealthy excitement of the ball-room. Thus, with the body half-starved, and the mind unduly excited by pleasure, perverting in midnight revels the hours designed by nature for sleep and rest, the work of destruction is half accomplished.

In consequence of this early strain upon her system, unnecessary effort is required by the delicate rotary to retain her situation in school at a later day, thus aggravating the evil. When one excitement is over, another in prospect keeps the mind morbidly sensitive to impression, while the now constant restraint of fashion, dress, absolutely forbidding the exercise indispensable to the attainment and retention of organic health and strength; the exposure to night air; the sudden change of temperature; the complete prostration produced by excessive dancing, must, of necessity, produce their legitimate effect. At last, an early marriage caps the climax of misery, and the unfortunate one, hitherto so utterly regardless of the plain dictates and remonstrances of her delicate nature, becomes an unwilling subject to a medical treatment. This is but a truthful picture of the experience of thousands of our young women.

Long before the ability to exercise the functions of the generative organs, they require an education of their peculiar nervous system, composed of what is called the tissue, which is, in common with the female breast and hips, evidently under the control of mental emotions and associations at an early period of life; and, as we shall subsequently see, these emotions, when excessive, lead long before puberty to habits which sap the very life of their victims ere nature has self-completed their development.

For Female Weakness and Debility, Whites or Leucorrhoea, Too Profuse Menstruation, Exhaustion, Too Long Continued Periods, for Dropsy and Boiling Down, or Prolapsus Uteri, we offer the most perfect specific known: HELMBOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF BUCHU. Directions for use, diet, and advice, accompany.

Females in every period of life, from infancy to extreme old age, will find it a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. Strength is the glory of manhood and womanhood. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU is more strength giving than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron, and is more safe, and more pleasant. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, having received the endorsement of the most prominent physicians in the United States, is now offered to afflicted humanity as a certain cure for the following diseases and symptoms, from whatever cause originating: General Debility, Mental and Physical Depression, Imbecility, Determination of Blood to the Head, Confused Ideas, Hysteria, General Irritability, Restlessness and Sleeplessness at Night, Absence of Muscular Efficiency, Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, Low Spirits, Disorganization or Paralysis of the Organs of Generation, Palpitation of the Heart, and, in fact, all the concomitants of a Nervous and Debilitated state of the system. To insure the genuine, cut this out. Ask for HELMBOLD'S Compound Extract of Buchu, and get it everywhere. Price $1.25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Describe symptoms in all communications. Address H. T. HELMBOLD, Drug and Chemical Warehouse, 594 Broadway, N. Y.

None are genuine unless done up in steel engraved wrapper, with fac-simile of my Chemical Warehouse, and signed

E. S. GOODWIN, Esq., Agent Welden Spring Water.

DEAR SIR: I write to acknowledge the benefit I have received from the Welden Spring Water. I have been troubled with Disease of the Kidneys for many years. I have consulted some of the best physicians in the country and received no relief. Some few months since I was recommended to try the Welden Spring Water. I had not taken it long before I was surprised to see how much good it had done me. Since then I always keep it in my room and seldom drink any other water, knowing eventually it will cure me. As I am anxious that others should be benefited by my experience, I cheerfully recommend it to all suffering with the same disease. Respectfully,

J. J. MAY.

17 MERCHANTS EXCHANGE, Boston, October 3, 1868.

E. S. GOODWIN.

DEAR SIR: I cheerfully comply with your request to give my candid opinion of the merits of the Welden Spring Water. For some years I have suffered much from Dyspepsia, and having exhausted patent medicines and the prescriptions of many physicians, I was advised to try the Welden Spring Water. I found by taking a glass of the water before meals it acts as a tonic and general regulator of the system, and enables me to eat any kind of food without inconvenience. The only evidence I can give of my appreciation of its virtues is a recommendation to every one suffering from Dyspepsia to try it.

Yours truly, FRANK B. DIXON.

QUINCY, MASS., Oct. 3, 1868.

DEAR SIR: My wife has used your Welden Spring Water, and has received great benefit from it. Before she used it she was troubled with cough, and had lived from the stomach or lungs. The cough has entirely disappeared, and she is as well, or better, than she has been for ten years.

Very respectfully your old servant,
